

Hello Institutions of Higher Education Faculty!

Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs) with Educator Preparation Programs have requested introductory professional learning for Home Base. We are excited about working with you to prepare pre-service teachers with tools to be successful in the classroom.

As part of the professional learning, faculty and pre-service teachers will be provided access to Home Base demonstration sites using test data and provided with training materials comprising of screenshots, a lesson plan template and exemplars. We will begin this rollout to IHEs by providing access to Schoolnet, North Carolina's Instructional Improvement System. We hope to ease the transition of first year teachers by providing your pre-service teachers a window into the vast array of classroom instructional resources available in Schoolnet.

Proposed Agenda

- Orientation and Home Base Overview
- Layout and Structure of Schoolnet
- Overview of assessment creation, data analysis, and reporting
- Building lesson plans and instructional units in Schoolnet

If you are interested in Home Base training, please complete the request for training form. If you are interested in being a possible host site, please note this within the form.

Looking forward to collaborating with you!

Digital Teaching & Learning Division
North Carolina Department of Public Instruction

